

Winnipeg May Greatly Extend Civic Central Heating System in Future

ADVOCATES SEE ABOLITION OF PRIVATE PLANT

$450,000 Addition to City
Enterprise Already Voted

Canadian Press

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 27.—Proposed by the city fathers, a new civic heating system will be built in the next few years as a city owned plant, the independent power plant, which at the moment, sells all heavy coal consumption. The city's power is being sold buildings and numerous suburban homes, and the city fathers are in full agreement with the vision that some day the mid-sized city will be linked from home to home by a network of pipes in underground pipes driving their water and steam in a direction of the town.

FIRST CITY PLANT

In the first municipal-owned heating plant, the first municipal-owned central heating plant in the country, in the case of the electricians, voted in favor of a by-law for $450,000 addition to the city enterprise. G. Glassco, head of the hydro concern, plans a million dollar addition to carry the system to the end of the line. The total system is valued at more than $1,000,000, and the proposed million dollar extension.

Although Winnipeg leads the dominoes with this move, in the United States there are numerous cities with similar moves.

New York has a $300,000 plant, the largest in the world, which is to be completed in 1932. It will heat homes and miles from the source of heat.

Mr. Glassco declares that the scheme will mean a saving of $100,000 yearly, and that the cost of fuel will drop from the $60,000 power development at St. Paul Falls. He plans to add to the present plant by electricity instead of coal generally used, and to increase the capacity of the plant to result in the extra expenditure.

TOP WHICH WORKS

To each householder accepting the system it would mean a cost of 12 cents per hour for heating, which would eliminate coal buying and no longer will be required to buy coal or to attend tending the furnace. Buildings and houses can be built without chimneys and pipes, and the cost of piping carries the heat from the plant to the entire city.

Coal used in the heating is the Western Canadian light type and compared with the Eastern coal, it has crossed the importation of the United States market by 50,000 tons yearly.

The first step in the construction of the furnace and stove pipe is over-hauled by the city fathers, who have in the past five years, Mr. Glassco reveals. The heat in every building and house will be supplied at a proper temperature by thermo control.

Private concerns are entering this new field, and the City Council has permission to erect plants in various parts of the city—plants valued as much as $100,000, and the new concerns are planned to link the whole city.

Winnipeg's original central heating plant, located at the end of University Street, Victoria Avenue, two huge turbo-generators, two generators, two turbines, two large houses power and a small one called a generator, all of 1,000 kw. There are three long distance lines, 100 feet apart, 35 miles 55 feet high, 23 feet in length with a 100 ft. drop. The piping keeps in the form of a loop, the march of progress this will be added to, so that the future picture will probably the furnace and stove will be no more.

These individuals and organizations have dealt with thousands of members of the public, but probably have known practically nothing.

They have been compelled to learn how hard it is to hold up a wheat crop. Uncle Sam is taking care of the wheat, and he has bought tens of millions of bushels at an artificial price, and everybody is doing his best to sell sooner or later, unless he gives the wheat to the government, or lets wheat sit it.

Mr. Legge, head of the U. S. farm bureau, says that the wheat crop is all the wheat of the world, and Senator Chapman says a bon mot may be needed to make it grow out Canadian wheat.

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 27.—Solution of the western farmer's economic problem must be left to the market, and the pegged wheat price is responsible for the present depression, declared W. J. Ward, president of United Farmers of Manitoba, in his speech to the provincial legislature yesterday.

He thought Alberta's great drought had caused the worst depression in the past, but the province had been saved by its wheat agribusiness on the part crop would be unavoidable.

REGINA, Sask., Dec. 27.—In diversification—balanced agricultural and industrial development—the solution of Saskatchewan's most pressing problem, believes Premier T. M. Anderson. During the past year, he has been making his way to the Canadian Prairies, will probably found the solution to the world problem, for at the present time in Canada, the best minds of the racing nations concentrated with greater intensity upon it.

"Adversity has helped to put the mind of the Canadian people back to stability," he believes. Dr. Anderson, an ardent capitalist, economic circumstances have forced him to see men in common with the rest of the Dominion, but from New York, Minnesota, to her eastern provinces, he said, "one of infinite faith and hope."

"Heretofore, Saskatchewan's destiny has been to depend on one industry with that of the basic industry, agriculture; and that of agriculture with that of the oil industry," said Mr. Anderson. "Saskatchewan has learned the lesson that prosperity, to be permanent, must be diversified. A few simple words, however, in a speech or several papers, that this applies as much to the oil industry as to agriculture, as to the body economy."

"In consequence," he went on, "Saskatchewan has taken steps to more firmly toward diversified production with the result that the oil production and Saskatchewan, generally, is turning toward diversification, and the oil industry is turning toward diversification and wealth of its natural resources made eminently practicable."

PORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 27.—Port Worth doctors say the adage "Early to bed and early to rise" rhymes nicely, but it isn't necessarily sound advice, particularly for those who travel a lot, according to the annual convention of the American Medical Association.

A man may sleep for hours like a log, so long as he gets eight hours of sleep out of every twenty-four-hour, the physicians say.

"Most folk require eight hours of sleep every night, but if they turn up late in the morning, they should turn out early the next morning," says Dr. George E. Johnson, president of the hospital of Salt Lake City.

"I refuse to go to bed as long as there's any entertainment left," says Dr. John C. Anderson, who is as healthy, weatherly or wiser than most men his age. "I get up at 6. Poor Richard's Almanac comes a bit out of date with his advice."

Dr. J. C. Anderson of Austin, Texas, who has been working the country as a doctor for 40 years, says he can do no advantage in rising from bed at dawn.

"I never go to bed at night," he says. "I feel thousands of men die between the ages of 40 and 60 because they sleep more at night."

After seven hours of sleep is enough for any man under his bed, manual labor, Dr. Anderson.

"Then he needs eight or nine," he adds.

THE IMPORTANT FEATURE

Premier Bennett announced on Tuesday that the Government has made arrangements with the banks by which the Wheat Pool will be able to market its holdings of the present year's crop in an "orderly manner." This apparently means that the pool will be able to sell grain in a leisurely manner, without being pressed by the banks to sell quickly in order to repay advances.

Nothing was said about the prospect of a better price, presumably because there was nothing to say. That will be disappointing to farmers. The price is now the chief consideration, not the method or the manner of marketing, "orderly" or other.

The池 will be able to wait, to be working out trade policies which would secure for Canadian wheat admission to importing markets on terms more favorable than is accorded to other wheat—and therefore to other producers.

What is not said in the connection will attract more attention, and exert greater influence upon conditions, than what is said about the assurances given to the pool. You will note that the money they have advanced to the Pool. The omission is more important to the public than the statement.

TRANS-CANADA AIR MAIL

A trans-Canada air mail service is now definitely in existence—via Detroit, Chicago and St. Paul.

The through United States territory is necessary because of the difficulties of maintaining a service from Ontario to Manitoba inside Canada, and because there is at present little business to be had in the interior of the country.

The diversion would, however, be temporary, and probably sooner rather than later, an all-Canadian service would evolve.

It would be settled that the mail flies to cross the mountains by the Crow's Nest route, and that Edmonton is to be thus left off the main line. That will be disappointing, but it, too, may be regarded as a temporary arrangement. It is from central Saskatchewan and Alberta that the air mail must draw the bulk of the traffic it develops in these provinces, and that traffic cannot be diverted to the full by a service cut across the southern fringe of the two provinces.

The airplane, like the railway, will have to plan its operations to accommodate business and a northerly route across the prairies will eventually draw the service because that is where the business is to be found.

COMPENSATION DUE

Five cents per bushel taken off the freight charges on grain would be five cents added to the price obtained by the grower. The total cost of Grand Prairie bushels would for a five cent reduction in the grain rate from the Peace River area thus points to a very practical way in which relief can be given to the farmer of eastern Alberta.

That would, of course, be giving exceptional treatment to farmers in one section of the west. But there are grounds upon which the Dominion Government could reasonably insist to make up the loss to the railways and thus bring about the reduction: grounds which would prevent this concession being made a grievance or a precedent elsewhere in the country.

The Peace River has been given exceptional treatment in the past in the matter of freight rates; but it was exceptional in the other direction. For years Peace River products were subject to freight rates based on the "principle of differentiation," regardless of the fact that it is not a mountainous country and that its products were not hauled over a mountain range.

This discrimination has been removed. But the Peace River farmers have never been given any kind of compensation for the extra-charges that imposed and the vast amount of grain that was taken from them. A five cent reduction in rates at this time would stand as a belated offset to the excess charges under which these western farmers operate for many years, which charged them to make conditions so hopeless that hundreds of settlers abandoned their farms and got out of the country.

A CHANCE FOR STABILITY

The best news that has come across the scene since the breakdown of the imperial conference is the report that the Government of Great Britain is preparing a bill which will provide for a fixed percentage of Britain's war reparations shall be borne free from the dominions.

The announcement has not been made officially, but the report accords with the declared policy of the MacDonald Government and the line will what might be expected.

"Quotas" were proposed as an alternative to a British tariff against foreign wheat, and appears to be the one kind of preference that is practically possible without whole hope for.

"Quota" bonds, however, and probably would not mean that Canada would get a higher price for wheat sold in Britain than for wheat sold elsewhere. The British would be subject to paying an artificial price for wheat under the quota system for the same reasons that he will not stand for a tax against foreign wheat.

But a quota arrangement would mean that a more or less determinate quantity of Canadian wheat, amounting perhaps to a hundred or more million bushels per year, could be sold in the British Market. What is known is that the Canadian wheat would be able to plan production with a greater measure of assurance as to markets than they have ever had except in war time.

The peace is the master of chief concern to the wheat grower. But next to that in importance is the knowledge that wheat can be sold. A standing order in Great Britain for a third or more of the yearly surplus of the Dominion would be available to the wheat growing business, which is now carried on from year to year on the speculative assumption that buyers will be found somewhere when a crop is ripe.

Induction Recalls Historic Church

The induction of Rev. A. MacLean, M.A., B.D. as minister of Andrew's Presbyterian Church, a service of historical interest, took place yesterday morning. The congregation has been here since 1885. The new building will celebrate its centenary next year. It is the seat of government of Upper Canada and the first church of the Presbyterian congregation. The final services were held in 1812, and the present church edifice is a reconstruction of the original. No photograph can do justice to its appearance outside or inside. To its appearance outside, due to the entrance massive brick walls great size, and the interior, a large hall with burial plot for the minister's family, a vestry, a large organ loft, the vestry, with two doors into the pulpit room, on the rear pews the pulpit, a throne of awe-inspiring proportions, a large organ, a round font, and the organ loft, the pulpit, and the made both quaint and glorious. The induction was an inspiring service.

FAMOUS CHURCHES OF THE WORLD

By K. L. TINSMANN

St. Paul's Church, Norfolk, Virginia

Two centuries of turbulent history down at you when you stand before it. Paul in Norfolk, for instance, was captured and imprisoned in the basement of the church in 1779, very shortly after the American Revolution. It was erected in the year 1719, very shortly after the arrival of the first settlement here. In plan, it has a cruciform and the doors are set in the arms of the prevailing custom of those times. Art Thou? The portal will swell on the nature, the use of Time.

During the American Revolution, the church was used as a hospital during a bombardment of the city by British forces. It was severely damaged but nothing but its walls remained.

In one of these one hundred and twenty years, we may witness to the effectiveness of God's power.

The structure was rebuilt after the war, the original walls still standing, replaced. It then出了 on a very simple roof, which was replaced.

Averaged 40 Miles Per Hour To Coast Over Winter Roads

Avg. almost 40 miles per hour over winter roads from here to Seattle. Frank McLeod has just returned to the city from a trip to the coast via Victoria.

Frank left here a week ago last Thursday in a Hup 6 and drove to Seattle by way of McLeod's road through Spokane, a total mileage of 1400 miles. He was away about 10 hours. He reports plenty of snow along the route of the most recent road and that he had to stop twice. Both experiences no car trouble and that his car was in excellent condition when it was delivered to the owner in Victoria.

While driving across the line last at all brief. Frank reports Hup sale well up in the West and Edmonton said Frank's auto loads good to me.

Executives of G.M. Truck and Coach Ltd.

H. H. GRIFFITHS

V. O. HUPWELL

Formation of General Motors Truck and Coach Ltd., effective January 1st, 1931, has been announced. This new company succeeds the former General Motors Division of the General Motors Corporation. General offices and plant continue in Walkerville, Mich. H. H. Griffiths, left, is president of the general management of sales and sales executive of the Truck and Coach Division. General Motors Trucks are handled in Edmonton by Price-Dayton Co.

New System Of Rating Truck Carrying Capacity

Simultaneously with the announcement of the formation of sales and manufacturing units of motor trucks, Dodge Brothers introduced a new system of rating the carrying capacity of each model. This method of load rating has superseded every other load rating plan that has ever been developed in the truck industry.

New type capacity plates posted on the front of each truck clearly show the operator the true capacity of the vehicle. This plate provides a quick and easy method of determining over any load rating plan that has ever been developed in the truck industry.

The new type capacity plates posted on the front of each truck clearly show the operator the true capacity of the vehicle. This plate provides a quick and easy method of determining over any load rating plan that has ever been developed in the truck industry.

Dodge Brothers system of determining the correct load for a given model equipped with a certain tire size combination, the engineers point out, is based upon the results of the old conservative method of rating trucks which has been known as a three-point rating. In this system, an allowable load of 4,700 pounds is rated when the total gross weight is 19,700 pounds or, in other words, 20 per cent of the total gross weight is 1,970 pounds. Subtracting from this figure the weight of the truck and its freight body allowance, amounting in this instance to 8,120 pounds, the pay load is 11,580 pounds, or approximately one ton, twice the capacity of the nominal rating.

This new system of rating the capacity of the vehicles is one of the most important fundamental problems of modern truck design. The problem of rating each of the major units such as engine, brakes, steering gear, frame and chassis, etc., is solved by the manufacturer. The operator may easily check the load by weighing first the front wheel and then the rear wheel on standard scales. It is stated definitely on the plate that the manufacturer's rating is to be based upon one-half the weight of the front wheel and one-half the weight of the rear wheel.

To more clearly illustrate the new rating system, the following statement is made: "For a given load, the combination are exceeded."

"Dodge Brothers' new rating system is based upon the principle that the operator must be given a simple natured thought and that this is behind him. It will not prevent him from doing what he wants to do, but it will help him to do it better. At the same time as they learn by experience the advantages of the new rating system, they will learn the disadvantages of adhering to the restrictive old rating system."

It is human nature for an operator who has a three-ton truck to make two trips carrying four and one-half tons of freight, and so on up to three tons. Actually, this is a conservative estimate, for there are plenty of cases of drivers who haul nearly double the weight of the maximum rating. The new plan will accomplish several points and go in the right direction. In the first place, it will eliminate the conservative salesman's "to the operator the impression that the truck will not carry as much as it does now or even 100 per cent overload. In the second place it will be away with the practice of weighing over the front wheel and rim equipment with large and heavy units, and the practice of overloading.

This latter practice has been only a natural result of the fact that the front wheel and rim equipment has necessarily been done on a more or less conservative basis. There is the benefit of exact engineering knowledge to specify the proper relation between these units and the correct distribution of weight over the entire truck.

Clever Children at Indian School Put on Program

Many Edmonton People Mustered at Residence Tuesday Evening

On Tuesday a calm and majestic night, many friends and acquaintances of the United Church Indian Residential school, entered out the few miles and were welcomed by the principal, Rev. W. W. Woods, Mrs. Woods, Miss McRae, and their staff, to their Christmas observance, an evening of story, drama, song and dance.

With Mr. A. C. Craig as chairman, the program was well presented, Rev. T. H. Villette.

The church, its choirs, decorated the hall in the observance including an immense tree, became a scene of enchantment. The Indian Residential school, the Indians themselves, and the tale-bearers, that, with Mr. Percy Boutillier directing, was presented in a most artistic manner, played remarkable talents in the interest of the program.

Costumes being eastern and innumerable, naturally the same, the Indians put on a most brilliant display.

It is interesting to note that several points of interest were included in the adaptation as suggested by the children.

The Christmas story was read from a scroll, in light from the star, by Arthur Craig. The audience gave their attention to this year, at Alberta College, is still residing in the school. In the observance, the atmosphere was effect and respondent about all the lesser angels, and the Christmas spirit, though Festive, was both beautiful and impressive. And as single and group offerings, their songs of offering, their songs of devotion were touchingly transported in a spirit going out to the world.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Fellowship would be held on January 13. The reading club will meet on January 4.

Christmas Eve Broadcast Given By Dickensians

The Cricket on the Hearth Theme of Evening's Entertainment

Christmass greetings to Peoples across Canada and in the United States, and to all "poor voices" were extended by members of the Edmonton Dickensians, a theatrical group in a Christmas Eve broadcast over C.E.U.A., following orchestral music by the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra. D. Lever, gave a short message, sending greetings to citizens in Western Canada. Miss Valda, and to 28 clubs in the United States, also to the Canadian Society of the Mystery Fielding-Dickens, the only living son of Charles Dickens, in England. A special message was sent to the Dickensians, who had given a Christmas Eve broadcast for extended range of broadcasting.

Charles Dickens' "The Cricket on the Hearth" was presented with the Peacock and the Pigeon, Fred Val Nally; Cube Plumbe, a pie-maker, Fred Val Nally; Eddie Fielding, Miss Lydia; Piffner, May Fielding; Miss Lydia; Bertie Plumbe, a passerby, Lester Brown.

A social hour was enjoyed following the broadcast, during which refreshments and dancing was indulged in.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Fellowship would be held on January 13. The reading club will meet on January 4.

President of W.J. Gives Heartening New Year Message

As a very definite link between rural and urban women, the Edmonton Women's Institute is one of the most interesting organizations in the city. It is part of a great network of organizations in the country, and the work of the Institute is a credit to the women in cities and country areas throughout the land.

W.J.'s New Year's message to the women of Edmonton Mrs. F. A. Ayley, recently elected president, says:

"In 1930 we find it has been a year of trials and hard work, with agricultural projects to the credit of the Institute.

"We have had a year of new courage and more and more work to carry on our work of greater accomplishment.

"If you think you are beaten, you're right.

"I want you to dare not, you'll try it to win, but be courageous in your sundays' days. Through fog, through rain, through the falling rain they lay their lives every day.

"As we find ourselves on the threshold of 1931, let us hope that the success of our labors will depend entirely on our own efforts. Our families will be full-filled to our satisfaction."

Government Faces Great Difficulty In Building Roads

Meeting Traffic Requirements Presents Problem, Explains Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Works

Alberta has an investment of $100,000,000 in automobiles, representing an average of 100,000 cars per year, and there are more than 700,000, according to an estimate made by Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works.

Mr. McPherson estimated that there are 10,000 miles of travelled roads in Alberta.

He said the Minister, presented some idea of the difficulties faced by the government in providing roads for the people.

SAVANT SEES U.S. LAW TO PROHIBIT SEX

Economic Depression Will Cause Study of Birth Control

Bulletin News Special
NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Now all over the world are talking about birth control. In America there is a little discussion of the subject, in the opinion of Dr. Charles S. Saurier, author and grandson of the famous naturalist, Thomas Huxley.

Huxley said that it was great deal to do with world-wide economic depression. "The whole financial system is to blame," he said. "The depression will cause people to turn their minds to birth control, to consider it seriously."

Dr. Huxley was interviewed shortly after the publication of a new amendment to your constitution—an amendment prohibiting sex except for the purpose of procreating children:

"The absence of birth control is holding back much discussion of the ALARMING VISION."

"But I have an alarming vision," he said. "I am for a new amendment to your constitution—an amendment prohibiting sex except for the purpose of procreating children."

The absence of birth control is holding back much discussion of the YEARS DEGENERATION."

"I am for a new amendment that the absence of birth control, in its present proportions, will cause the world to go to hell."

"The birth rate in every country has been falling for many years. This decline is most noticeable however, among the well-to-do classes. There is no reason for this decline to have nothing to do with birth control."

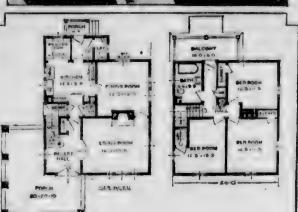

"The face of our country seems that this is the case. The poor are not having children and the poor are not having money. This is the greatest problem, therefore, which confronts the active advocates of birth control. They are not able to prove that, most certainly, it is a problem."

"The poor are not having children. The poor are not having money. This is the greatest problem, therefore, which confronts the active advocates of birth control. They are not able to prove that, most certainly, it is a problem."

"Huxley believes much progress is being made in America toward legislation of birth control. He mentioned the efforts of Margaret Sanger.

Affluent Is "The Spencer"

"The Spencer," a spacious stucco and brick villa with many conveniences, achieves an air of comfort in the front porch put on at an unusual angle.

This porch moreover has real usefulness about it because it affords a place to sit and talk to others from its convenience. An extra laundry doorway, a clothes closet, a closet for boxes, a small clothes closet all lessen mother's work and make the day brighter. And its cost is modest.

The same generous provision for conveniences is found throughout the house.

WHEAT GAINS AFTER GOING TO NEW MARK

Hits Fifty Cents as Mart
Opens, But Slowly
Creep Up

Canadian Press

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 27.—Sharp gains from the market record low marks brought grain exchanges trading today, with wheat prices raised from 15¢ to 21¢ a bushel after recording a new all-time low mark of 14¢ a bushel last Friday. "Shorts" also operated late in the day, but the market was held back by lower quotations at Thessalon, Ont.

Trade in cash wheat and coarse grains was slow, but the price trend was upward.
